Wallace Hufford, of Johnson City, Tenn., came to Tazewell Saturday night to attend the burial of the little girl of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Surface, Mrs. Surface being his sister. Mr. Hufford is doing well in Tennessee, and is well remembered by many friends in Tazewell.

Tiny Goodykoontz, the 3-year old grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sisk, of North Tazewell, died at the home of its parents at Jenkin Jones Sunday of membranous croup, and was brought here for burial Monday. Rev. R. B. Platt, Jr., of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral services.

We have been threatened with a libel suit by J. W. Campbell, of North Tazewell because we called him John William. He informs us that the "W" in his name stand for Woodrow; therefore we apologize to Mr. John Woodrow Wilson Campbell, and will try to remember what the "W" stand for in the future.

Mrs. O. L. Fuller has been quite ill at her home on Cavitt's Creek. Her father, G. E. Mahood, of Graham, was here to see her on Tuesday and also on Wednesday. It was thought that she would be taken to the hospital at Bluefield, but her condition has improved, and this will not be necessary now, it is thought.

There will be preaching in Burke's Garden Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 3:30 p. m., by the pastor, Rev. T. H. Campbell.

Do you know or had you forgotten that Abraham Lincoln was born Feb. 12th, —years ago? Betch'er you can't fill that blank correctly.

Messrs. J. E. Morton and H. B. Frazier, prominent citizens of Graham, were business visitors to Tazewell this week.

Captain Bowen and his family have ended their months sojourn with the family of Senator Royall, and have begun life again at their home on Tazewell avenue.

Mrs. Wm. Ed. Peery is in Bluefield with her daughter, Virginia, who is at the Bluefield sanitarium. Mrs. Peery expects to bring her daughter home pretty soon, and in the meantime is doing a little "flying around" among her kind folks and friends there and in Graham.

Mrs. Jesse McCall had a few of friends to dinner on yesterday, the number being Rev. and Mrs. Campbell. The names of the other fortunate guests are not available at this writing.

The Womans Club met with Mrs. Doak on Wednesday afternoon. An interesting program was given, one number being a paper prepared by Mrs. E. L. Greever on "Fine Arts in Mexico," and read by Mrs. Geo. W. St. Clair. Mrs. Greever being absent at Chilhowie with her mother who has been quite sick.

Mr. Jayne is meeting with some encouragement in securing subscriptions to the stock for the Opera House. The new hotel is assured it seems, and should the building of the opera house take place too, this town would be assured of a reasonably good year's work for a number of men, besides securing the two new buildings. Why not encourage the growth of your town?

Have you seen the new offices of Greever & Gillespie, the lawyers? It is a beauty, or rather "they," for there are four splendid rooms, all connecting, with all conveniences, etc. The new rooms are upstairs, over the office formerly occupied by them. Drop in and take a look at these nice rooms.

George E. Mahood, of Graham, announces himself a candidate for Commissioner of the Revenue this week for Clear Fork district. Mahood is a capable man, and if elected would do his best to discharge the duties of his office.

Robert S. Graham, of Norton, who has been with his father, Judge Samuel C. Graham, at City Point, Fla., was here this week on his return to Norton. From a private source it is learned that Judge Graham has been unusually successful in bagging game this winter, and that his visit to Florida has been very beneficial to him.

Miss Anna Dickenson, one of the most charming of the belles of the bluegrass down in Russell, was here for a brief visit to her sister, Mrs. A. S. Higginbotham during the week. Miss Dickenson left her mother in Richmond recovering rapidly from an operation and attended by another daughter. She returned on Tuesday to her home "Walrose," near Castlewood.

Jo. Hunt, of Horsepen, was here on Tuesday and transacted business in this office for himself and his friend, and neighbor, Mr. Billips. Mrs. Hunt is now at Honaker under treatment for a cancer. She spent several months in a hospital in Welch, where she underwent surgical treatment and is now taking the Combs treatment. She has endured all sorts of torture and her many friends hope she may be cured and entirely relieved.

Mr. John W. McFarlin, chief food inspector of the State of Kentucky, located in Lexington, has been in Tazewell this week. Mr. McFarlin is here in the interest of a number of Kentucky gentlemen who propose establishing a packing house at Lexington. The Tazewell Packing Company's fine plant was examined by the gentleman from Kentucky, and in conversation with a representative of this paper, he stated that he had visited a number of packing houses in different parts of the country, but that the one at North Tazewell was the cleanest and most sanitary plant he had yet seen. It is likely that he will recommend to the Kentucky gentlemen that they build their plant exactly on the plan of the one here.

The Baby Died.

Jane Elizabeth, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Surface, died last Friday night. The funeral and burial took place on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Campbell, assisted by Rev. Mr. Platt, conducted the service at the home, and interment was had in the new cemetery. The little girl's extreme illness was mentioned in this paper last week. She had measles complicated with pneumonia. The baby was about two years old, the age at which children are perhaps most interesting, and the parents were broken hearted to give her up. Not only the parents, but the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Surface, with whom the little child spent much of her time, sustain a grief almost too heavy to be borne. She was always "grandpa's baby," and her death and going away has left a shadow on two homes.

The choir sang softly, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and the minister read from the Book of Life, "Now that the child is dead, wherefore should I weep? He cannot come back to me but I can go to him."

One of the Nicest Stores in the Southwest.

Mr. C. E. Painter, of Roanoke, has been here this week installing the new furniture in Dr. Jackson's drug store. The furniture arrived Monday from Grand Rapids and is modern and up-to-date in all of its appointments. The only criticism yet heard is made by Dr. Jackson's "bums" who are wont to congregate around his fire nightly, read his personal letters, and sit in all the chairs available, and make themselves generally a nuisance. But the end has come. A partition has been run through the store cutting the loafers off from the fire and the easy chairs, and an invisible sign is hung over the door, "No Admittance." However, Dr. Jackson has not entirely forgotten his nightly visitors, having provided a "Victrola Room," where fine music, (in case you are a prospective Victrola purchaser), can be had, and maybe a stool if you have corns. If you don't believe the Rexall store is up-to-date, go and take a look.

For Commissioner of the Revenue for Clear Fork District.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office of Commissioner of the Revenue in the Clear Fork district of Tazewell county, at the election in November, 1915, and solicit the aid and support of voters of the county.

Respectfully,
G. E. MAHOOD.

A Big Feast.

On last Sunday, Feb. 7th, Miss Nan Clayton, of Thompson Valley entertained to dinner a number of her friends, among them being Mr. Reece Funkhouser, of Roanoke; Mr. Franklin Buchanan, of Bellings, W. Va.; Mr. Oscar Clayton, of Whopling, Va.; Mr. Alvah Brittain Cooper, of Davy, W. Va.; Mr. Bill Wilson, of English, W. Va.; Misses Nannie and Susie Bucklen, of Tazewell; Miss Mamie Brewster, of Indian; Miss Louana Slomp, of Big Stone Gap; little Miss Eddie and Alice Cochran, of Pocahontas. The party came to Tazewell on trains Nos. 5 and 12 and motored over to Thompson Valley.

Names and Needles.

Our list has been increased this week by a number of new names and a large number of renewals, and the needles have been going out in a hurry. Want of space forbids mention of these names. We express our highest appreciation. To all of these subscribers who asked for the needle book one was promptly sent.

The five papers of gold-eyed needles in assorted sizes and about a dozen special needles for darning, etc., all put up in a nice leatherette book, makes a nice premium, and has proven popular with the ladies. We will hand them out during this month or until the supply is gone. Don't fail to send a $1.50 for a year's subscription.

State Tax Rate is Made 60 Cents.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 10.—This afternoon the Senate took up the bill defining intangibles and fixing the rate of taxation for state purposes. The report of the committee favored seventy cents, as estimated by the Governor. The vote was taken on the amendment to make the State rate sixty cents and that was adopted. The vote in the Senate was a tie, 17 to 17. Lieutenant Governor Ellyson cast the deciding vote, and voted to make the rate sixty cents. It is claimed that this one change will make a deficit of $200,000 on the basis of the Governor's estimate.

The house this afternoon passed the resolution providing for adjournment tomorrow night, the members to return March 8th, and remain for a week. When the matter came to the Senate that body passed the matter by until tomorrow. The Senators favor remaining here the rest of the week and completing all business at this time.

Home and Contents Burned.

A house on the farm of Cecil Peery, occupied by James Gillespie and his family, was entirely consumed, with the contents of furniture, clothing, and all household goods on yesterday about 2 o'clock.

The fire originated from the flue in the roof. Gillespie was absent at the time. His wife and the children did all they could to extinguish the fire, but to no avail. One of the children was so severely burned as to need the services of a physician.
